How to Sponsor

<http://go.osu.edu/ICOPHAI2015-Sponsorform>

If you would like to find out more about this excellent opportunity to promote your business, please email to info@icophai.org

Opportunities to Sponsor: By sponsoring ICOPHAI events and costs, you acknowledge the vital nature of global "One Health" and the impact of pathogens at the human-animal interface. You also show support for continued research in these areas in service to a global society. Sponsorship provides a variety of opportunities to develop closer relationships with government and industry research scientists, policy makers, academics, and students while enhancing the congress experience for the attendees.

Sponsor Benefits: We want to greatly thank our ICOPHAI 2013 sponsors for helping to underwrite the costs of providing an event, program, or service to the congress delegates. We express our thanks by providing our sponsors with benefits such as complimentary registrations, recognition on marketing materials, use of exhibit booth areas, use of meeting rooms to hold workshops to advertise the company's products or services, as well as access to meeting space on-site.
